The cover of this year's ANNUAL RING is Weldwood Industrial Flexwood and is genuine red gum veneer.

Weldwood Flexwood - - developed by United States Plywood - - is genuine veneer permanently laminated to either non-woven fibre backing (Industrial Flexwood) or a cloth backing (Architectural Flexwood), and by a special flexing process is made extremely pliable. It is available in more than forty domestic and imported woods of choice grain and figure.

Weldwood Industrial Flexwood is sold in large sheets as well as bonded to substrates such as aluminum and steel, by our Flexible Materials Division in Louisville, Kentucky. Substantial sales are being realized from the automotive industry for interior decorative trim on the Chrysler, and from fabricators of metal partitions, such as E. F. Hauserman, as well as from other large manufacturers - - Aero Commander Aircraft, Brunswick Corporation, Beech Aircraft, Salton Hotray, etc. Manufacturers of major home appliances, such as refrigerators (Amana and General Electric) and dishwashers (Hobart "Kitchen-Aid"), also are using Industrial Flexwood for facing panels to match fine kitchen cabinet woods. Many other industries are exploring uses for this interesting and versatile decorative material, which can also be bonded to hardboard, Novoply, plywood, etc.

Weldwood Architectural Flexwood is sold largely as an interior wall decorating material and is applied with equal facility to flat walls, curved or formed surfaces, columns and pillars.

For additional information, write United States Plywood, Flexible Materials Division, Box 17183, Louisville, Kentucky 40217.

Foreword

The ANNUAL RING is many things to many people. To the graduating senior, it is a pictorial treasury of memories. To the recent graduate, it is a review of the places, events, and activities that are so familiar to him. To the older graduate, it is a review of the changes and improvements that have taken place since his student days.

It is through the efforts and cooperation of the faculty, alumni, and advertisers that we are able to produce the ANNUAL RING.

The ANNUAL RING staff hopes that this book will have the same special meaning for you as it does for us.

DEDICATION

Each annual increment records an important period in the life of a tree. The occurrence of fire, drought, insect attack, disease, or release from competition is permanently recorded in each annual ring.

For twenty-five years, the ANNUAL RING has recorded the activities and quality of each increment of new graduates. The staffs of past years have wonderfully preserved the many events which mark the School's history.

Although there has been a steady improvement in the quality and coverage of each successive ANNUAL RING, credit must be given to those who initiated the idea. The experiences of success and failure have accumulated into vast volumes of knowledge which is passed along from year to year.

For the reasons mentioned above, this twenty-fifth anniversary issue of the ANNUAL RING is dedicated to the twenty-four ANNUAL RINGS of the past and their staffs.

THE DIRECTOR'S MESSAGE

LOUISIANA STATE UNIVERSITY & A & M COLLEGE
School of Forestry

Baton Rouge, La.

Is forestry education meeting the needs of a rapidly changing society? My answer to this question is both "yes" and "no." A special committee of the Society of American Foresters followed up the recent Dana-Johnson study of forestry education in America with an opinion poll of forestry faculties. A strong majority of forestry educators felt that something needs to be done to strengthen existing professional education in forestry. However, the majority disagreed with Dana's recommendation for a five-year bachelor's degree program.

In response to the special committee's findings, the Council of Forest School Executives, of which I am the current Vice-Chairman, voted unanimously last fall to make a study during the year to define a core of concepts that should be common to all forestry curricula seeking S.A.F. membership for its graduates. The Council felt that some minimum core of forestry knowledge is essential to justify professional standing, and that a clearer definition of core course content will set useful guidelines for improved education.

I am hopeful that this approach will help us in the schools do a better job in the future; however, for you alumni and students now in forestry school, I recommend that you expand and deepen your own knowledge and understanding by every means available to you. Your L.S.U. Commencement ceremony should merely mark the end of one phase of your education and the beginning of another.

Respectfully submitted,

The L.S.U. Society of Foresters enriches the school years of forestry students by adding to their extracurricular activities a program with professional as well as social functions. All students majoring in forestry or wildlife management may become members merely by undergoing a one-week initiation.

This years activities began with a welcome get-together for freshmen and transfer students. We were successful in gaining a number of hardworking, new members. The "flatheads" underwent the final agonies of initiation at our Initiation Day, which was again held at Camp Garrison. Fellowship, good food, and "firefighting" were the highlights of the day. Our Annual Christmas Party was held in December at Nelson Memorial Hall.

These events are only a few of the many functions of the Society of Foresters. Other Activities include the Association of Southern Forestry Clubs Conclave, drink sales at the L.S.U. Rodeo, publication of the ANNUAL RING, the Annual Spring Party, and clearcutting and planting an acre each year on the Society Demonstration Forest. Through these activities, L.S.U. foresters learn to work together and build friendships which will last through the years.

Xi Sigma Pi, the national forestry honor fraternity, was founded at the University of Washington on November 24, 1908. The local chapter, Nu, was founded at the L.S.U. School of Forestry on April 13,

The objectives of Xi Sigma Pi are to secure and maintain a high standard of scholarship in forestry education, to work for the upbuilding of forestry, and to promote fraternal relations among earnest workers engaged in forestry activities.

Only forestry students of high scholastic ranking and showing promise of attaining high professional achievement are elected to the fraternity. The new members are known as "neophytes" during the informal initiation and become active members after the formal ceremony.

Xi Sigma Pi projects are the presentation of the Outstanding Sophomore Award in forestry each year and the maintenance of the forestry alumni distribution map in the lobby of the forestry building.

The Pinettes is an organization of student and faculty wives at the School of Forestry and Wildlife Management. Established in 1955 it is affiliated with the National Association of Forestry Student Wives.

These lovely and indispensable ladies hold frequent meetings at which they consider a wide variety of topics ranging from homemaking to technical forestry. The group promotes fellowship and friendship among student, alumni, and faculty families, and furnishes the hostesses for the Homecoming Day reception held annually for returning alumni and their families.

Hi Neighbors!

Since the LSU forestry camp first began on land donated by our predecessor company back in the 1920's, we have always welcomed the opportunity of being "Good Neighbors."

Crown Zellerbach recognizes the important contributions made by the LSU School of Forestry. We are honored and pleased that its students receive some of their training on our timberlands.

Crown Zellerbach's foresters look forward to working with each year's class, providing lectures and tours, and sharing of their experience.

We've enjoyed being neighbors and invite you to visit us again.

THE FUTURE IS BRIGHT . . .

The future is bright for the forest farmer who plans ahead. This is true because more and better trees will be needed to meet our growing nation's demands for wood products.

Also, wood-using industries and related organizations are investing large sums of money in research activities to discover new uses and new markets for wood and wood products. As they are found, the forest farmer is in a favored position to profit from this demand for his trees. The landowner who manages his forest at a minimum of expense and grows trees of high quality will reap the greatest profit.

The future is also bright for the forester, as more scientific management must be applied to plantations and natural stands of timber in order for them to be brought into maximum production. To accomplish this, the services of dedicated and skilled foresters will be required.

Working together, the future is indeed bright for the tree farmer and the forester.

Today the building industry represents a fantastic $60 billion market - - it will continue to grow. United States Plywood Corporation could help you to become a part of the growth with that burgeoning market.
