ANNOTATIONS

Radigan, Emily N.
Winter 2000

Radigan, Emily N. 'Desolating this Fair Country': The Civil War Diary and Letters of Lt. Henry C. Lyon, 34th New York. McFarland & Company, ISBN 786406909

Henry Lyon later served at Malvern Hill and Antietam, where he was mortally wounded. His wartime journal and letters, literate and perceptive, are annotated and illustrated in this work.

LeConte, Joseph
Winter 2000

LeConte, Joseph 'Ware Sherman: A Journal of Three Months' Personal Experience in the Last Days of the Confederacy. Louisiana State University Press, ISBN 807123951

An introduction by William Blair enhances a Confederate civilian's personal account of two journeys -- one to retrieve his daughter and later, one to save his property. His experience foreshadows the ill-treatment of civilians and the South's postwar economic privations.

Clay-Clopton, Virginia
Atkins, Leah Rawls
Harrison Jr., Joseph H.
Winter 2000

Clay-Clopton, Virginia, Atkins, Leah Rawls, and Harrison Jr., Joseph H. A Belle of the Fifties: Memoirs of Mrs. Clay of Alabama. University of Alabama Press, ISBN 817310207

As the introduction to this edition of A Belle of the Fifties observes, the dramatic and unflappable Virginia Clay-Clopton "brilliantly exploited the social opportunities afforded by Washington and Richmond" between 1853-66. This work describes what she saw.

Pease, William H.
Winter 2000

Pease, Jane H. and Pease, William H.. A Family of Women The Carolina Petigrus in Peace and War. University of North Carolina Press, ISBN 807825050

Based on memoirs, diaries, and letters from three generations, A Family of Women is a history of the Petigru family's women during the War and its aftermath that shows how socioeconomic conditions affected this prominent Charleston family.

Leeke, Jim
Winter 2000

Leeke, Jim A Hundred Days to Richmond Ohio's 'Hundred Days' Men in the Civil War. Indiana University Press, ISBN 025333537X

In 1864 Ohio governor John Brough raised 35,000 men for 100 day regiments, with the intent of freeing up regular soldiers from garrison duty. As these letters and reports record, many instead were thrown into battle at Monocacy Junction and Petersburg.

Archambault, Alan H.
Winter 2000

Archambault, Alan H. A Sketchbook of the Union Infantryman. Thomas Publications, ISBN 1577470478

This sketchbook portrays the Union foot soldier's life through ink drawings. An explanatory paragraph accompanies each sketch. For younger children.

Lowe, Richard
Winter 2000

Lowe, Richard A Texas Cavalry Officer's Civil War: The Diary and Letters of James C. Bates. Louisiana State University Press, ISBN 807123722

Editor Richard Lowe recognizes that Texas cavalrymen were "a hard-riding bunch" but finds that James Bates's own words reveal a literate and passionate man who "was the very best sort of soldier for the Confederacy."

Borden, Louise
Lewin, Ted
Winter 2000

Borden, Louise and Lewin, Ted. A. Lincoln and Me. Scholastic, ISBN 590457144

A modern-day boy with the same birthday as Lincoln identifies with the president's appearance and biography, despite the mocking of fellow students. This book encourages children to embrace their eccentricities.

Reinhart, Mark S.
Winter 2000

Reinhart, Mark S. Abraham Lincoln on Screen: A Filmography of Dramas and Documentaries Including Television, 1903-1998. McFarland & Company, ISBN 078640602X

Abraham Lincoln on Screen presents sophisticated Lincoln film analysis, as shown in its characterization of D.W. Griffith's film The Birth of a Nation as a "racist and historically inaccurate" account that nevertheless presents an "excellent recreation of Lincoln's assassination."

Thompson, Frank
Winter 2000

Thompson, Frank Abraham Lincoln: Twentieth Century Popular Portrayals. Taylor Publishing, ISBN 878332413

"Which of these Abes can truly represent the man?" Frank Thompson ponders. His survey of depictions of the 16th president addresses the often conflicting film and dramatic portrayals of Lincoln before concluding with an extensive filmography and bibliography.

Ray, Clyde H.
Winter 2000

Ray, Clyde H. Across the Dark River: The Odyssey of the 56th N.C. Infantry in the American Civil War. Parkway Publishers, ISBN 1887905049

Each chapter of Across the Dark River presents a different first-person narration of the 56th North Carolina Infantry's service from its August 1862 mustering to the muddy trenches of Petersburg. Some characters and episodes are based on true life.

Rehnquist, William H.
Winter 2000

Rehnquist, William H. All the Laws But One Civil Liberties in Wartime. Vintage, ISBN 679767320

The bulk of this dispassionate account of how civil liberties have fared during times of conflict is devoted to Civil War events, including Vallandigham's arrest, treason trials in Indianapolis, and the legal response to Lincoln's assassination. New in softcover.

Rinaldi, Ann
Winter 2000

Rinaldi, Ann Amelia's War. Scholastic, ISBN 590117440

When Confederates threaten to torch Hagerstown, 12-year-old Amelia helps save the town. By novel's end, she learns that war brings out the best and worst in people, but ultimately each person must take responsibility for his choices.

Gutjahr, Paul C.
Winter 2000

Gutjahr, Paul C. An American Bible: A History of the Good Book in the United States, 1777-1880. Stanford University Press, ISBN 804734259

Though not a social history, An American Bible examines the Bible's printing and public standing, contextualizing the Uncle Tom's Cabin genre ("fiction had become a tremendously popular purveyor of religious lessons") and the postwar impact of Ben Hur.

McKivigan, John R.
Harrold, Stanley
Winter 2000

McKivigan, John R. and Harrold, Stanley. Antislavery Violence Sectional, Racial, and Cultural Conflict in Antebellum America. University of Tennessee Press, ISBN 1572330597

The essays collected in Antislavery Violence focus on militant resistance to slavery by southern slave rebels, antislavery women in Kansas, and northern antislavery politicians in the decades preceding the War.

Sorrel, G. Moxley
Winter 2000

Sorrel, G. Moxley At the Right Hand of Longstreet: Recollections of a Confederate Staff Officer. University of Nebraska Press, ISBN 803292678

G. Moxley Sorrel, a Georgian who was James Longstreet's aide-de-camp, offers "rough jottings from memory" that present a firsthand perspective on both the War and a retired general who outlived the rest of the Confederate high command.

Rose, Michael
Winter 2000

Rose, Michael Atlanta: A Portrait of the Civil War. Arcadia, ISBN 738501387

Atlanta: A Portrait of the Civil War uses photos to tell the story of Atlanta's growth, its prominent families, its wartime siege and entrenchments, and its eventual surrender (whereupon all its surviving residents were expelled).

Large, George R.
Winter 2000

Large, George R. Battle of Gettysburg: The Official History by the Gettysburg National Military Park Commission. Burd Street Press, ISBN 157249171X

Compiled from battlefield markers prepared by Union and Confederate veterans of the campaign, Battle of Gettysburg is an essential companion for anyone strongly interested in the battle's details as the participants witnessed them.

Cushman, Stephen
Winter 2000

Cushman, Stephen Bloody Promenade: Reflections on a Civil War Battle. University Press of Virginia, ISBN 081391874X

Bloody Promenade exhaustively engages published memoirs, fiction, and scholarly works to uncover the Battle of the Wilderness. From discussing the meaning of "buff" to scrutinizing a preserved lock of Lee's hair, this poetic meditation consistently enchants.

Davis, William C.
Swentor, Meredith L.
Winter 2000

Davis, William C. and Swentor, Meredith L. Bluegrass Confederate: The Headquarters Diary of Edward O. Guerrant. Louisiana State University Press, ISBN 807124117

A staff officer who served in the Southern Highlands with Humphrey Marshall and John Hunt Morgan offers, according to the editors, "far and away the longest, fullest, and most informative of all surviving Kentucky diaries from the southern side."

Thomas, Emory M.
Winter 2000

Thomas, Emory M. Bold Dragoon: The Life of J.E.B. Stuart. University of Oklahoma Press, ISBN 806131934

This reprint of Emory M. Thomas's classic provides a balanced study of one of the Confederacy's most flamboyant generals. An exhaustively researched and fluidly written portrait of J.E.B. Stuart.

Egger-Bovet, Howard

Simison, D.J.
Winter 2000

Egger-Bovet, Howard, Smith-Baranzini, Marlene, and Simison, D.J.. Book of the American Civil War (Brown Paper School USKids History). Little, Brown, ISBN 316222399

This volume, one in a series of history books for young readers, is packed with stories, poems, songs, illustrations, and activities that explain the War's origins, civilian responses to its outbreak, and military field actions.

Maihafer, Harry J.
Winter 2000

Maihafer, Harry J. Brave Decisions: Fifteen Profiles in Courage and Character from American Military History. Brassey's, ISBN 1574882074

These well-crafted sketches of soldiers who faced difficult decisions include prominent generals, Paddy O'Rourke of the 140th New York, and gunboat commander Henry Walke.

Tucker, Phillip Thomas
Winter 2000

Tucker, Phillip Thomas Burnside's Bridge: The Climactic Struggle of the 2nd and 20th Georgia at Antietam Creek. Stackpole, ISBN 811701999

This sympathetic study of Robert Toombs's Georgians, who held Rohrbach's Bridge at Antietam, concludes with Lee's report that the unit "repulsed five different assaults made by greatly superior forces and maintained its position with distinguished gallantry."

Currie-McDaniel, Ruth
Winter 2000

Currie-McDaniel, Ruth Carpetbagger of Conscience: A Biography of John Emory Bryant. Fordham University Press, ISBN 823219372

Bryant left Maine to join the Union armies in the south. After the War, infused as he was with strong evangelicalism and a belief in black equality, he established himself in Georgia as a controversial proponent of Reconstruction and the Republican party.

Glazer, Walter Stix
Winter 2000

Glazer, Walter Stix Cincinnati in 1840: The Social and Functional Organization of an Urban Community During the Pre-Civil War Period. State University Press, ISBN 814208282

In this reprint of Walter Stix Glazer's 1974 study, the growth of pre-War Cincinnati is examined to reveal the connection between social dynamics and urban development.

Naden, Corinne J.
Blue, Rose
Winter 2000

Naden, Corinne J. and Blue, Rose. Civil War Ends: Assassination, Reconstruction, and the Aftermath. Raintree/Steck Vaughn, ISBN 817255834

With their "House Divided: The Civil War" series, Corinne J. Naden and Rose Blue have produced an appealing general introduction to the Civil War era. Why Fight? covers slavery and territorial expansion, Dred Scott and John Brown, Lincoln's election and Sumter. In The Bloodiest Days, early battles are described from Sumter through Fredericksburg and are illustrated with photos and maps. Civil War Ends chronicles Lincoln's death, Johnson's impeachment, Reconstruction, and the nascent civil rights movement. Each book includes a chronology of events, biographical and phrase glossary, bibliography, and list of pertinent Web sites. Library binding.

Cohen, Daniel
Winter 2000

Cohen, Daniel Civil War Ghosts. Scholastic, ISBN 439053870

Civil War Ghosts relates folklore about instances of the supernatural, including battlefield apparitions of George Washington and the ghost of John Brown. Each tale has sightseeing information for the site where it allegedly occurred. Ages 9-13.

Wooster, Ralph A.
Winter 2000

Wooster, Ralph A. Civil War Texas: A History and a Guide. Texas State Historical Association, ISBN 876111711

This accessible monograph provides an illustrated narrative of the War in Texas, from the 1861 secession ordinance to Kirby Smith's surrender at Galveston. It features sideboxes, maps, a chronology of events, and an index.

O'Grady, Kelly J.
Winter 2000

O'Grady, Kelly J. Clear the Confederate Way!: The Irish in the Army of Northern Virginia. Savas, ISBN 1882810422

Though never concentrated enough to form an entire brigade, over 40,000 Irishmen served in Confederate units. Kelly J. O'Grady's historical narrative is supplemented by maps, photos, and appendices listing the names of Irish companies and their officers.

Young, Bennett H.
Winter 2000

Young, Bennett H. Confederate Wizards of the Saddle Being Reminiscences and Observations of One Who Rode with Morgan. J.S. Sanders, ISBN 1879941481

First published in 1914, this book describes the most celebrated Confederate cavalry officers in action: Forrest, Stuart, Wheeler, and others. Young was himself a cavalryman under Morgan and recalls battles with clarity and detail.

Pittenger, William
Winter 2000

Pittenger, William Daring & Suffering: A History of the Andrews Railroad Raid. Cumberland House, ISBN 1581820348

A reprint of William Pittenger's account of how he and 23 other Yankees stole a train behind Confederate lines in 1862 with the design of disrupting rail from Atlanta to Chattanooga, only to be foiled by a persevering conductor who pursued them by rail, handcar, and foot.

Kelton, Elmer
Winter 2000

Kelton, Elmer Dark Thicket. Texas Christian University Press, ISBN 875652077

This tale (first published in 1985) of Texas unionists who evaded hostile neighbors and the Confederate home guard is, as Laurie Champion's new after-word puts it, "a coming-of-age story and a story about healing and forgiveness."

Young, Jeffrey Robert
Winter 2000

Young, Jeffrey Robert Domesticating Slavery The Master Class in Georgia and South Carolina, 1670-1837. University of North Carolina Press, ISBN 807847763

Tracing southeastern slavery ideology from colonization to the antebellum era, Young describes plantation culture as torn between "simultaneous desire for profit and noblesse oblige."

Young, Jeffrey Robert
Winter 2000

Young, Jeffrey Robert Domesticating Slavery: The Master Class in Georgia and South Carolina, 1670-1837. University of North Carolina Press, ISBN 807824909

Tracing southeastern slavery ideology from colonization to the antebellum era, Young describes plantation culture as torn between "simultaneous desire for profit and noblesse oblige."

Engle, Stephen D.
Winter 2000

Engle, Stephen D. Don Carlos Buell: Most Promising of All. University of North Carolina Press, ISBN 807825123

Stephen D. Engle's biography of Buell, the Union general whose shining moment at Shiloh was eclipsed by his failure to reverse Bragg's 1862 invasion of Tennessee and Kentucky, depicts Buell's personal clashes with Andrew Johnson.

Lang, J. Stephen
Caplanis, Michael
Winter 2000

Lang, J. Stephen and Caplanis, Michael. Drawn to the Civil War. John F. Blair, ISBN 895871866

Snappy profiles and cutting caricatures of over 60 Civil War era personalities make for delightful reading. Richard Ewell is described as a "bald and lisp[ing] rebel bird" and Mary Todd Lincoln is dubbed a "hellcat and flower child."

Taylor's, John M.

Winter 2000

Taylor's, John M. Duty Faithfully Performed: Robert E. Lee and His Critics. Brassey's, ISBN 1574881833

John M. Taylor's Duty Faithfully Performed: Robert E. Lee and His Critics counters criticisms of recent Lee biographers with a forceful defense of General Lee's character and accomplishments, providing a major counter-revisionist biography of one of the most controversial men in American history.

Conklin, E.F.

Winter 2000

Conklin, E.F. Exile to Sweet Dixie: The Story of Euphemia Goldsborough, Confederate Nurse and Smuggler. Thomas Publications, ISBN 1577470443

Baltimore's Euphemia Goldsborough, possessing decidedly Southern sympathies, nursed Confederate soldiers at Antietam and Gettysburg until she was expelled to Richmond. Using diaries and family papers, E.F. Conklin reconstructs Goldsborough's service.

Condrey, Julianne S.

Winter 2000

Condrey, Julianne S. Faithful to the Cause. Royal Fireworks Press, ISBN 880924039

Feuding cousins, a mulatto slave, a hard-charging Confederate corporal, and a wounded Union soldier are characters in a novella that chronicles one young lady's growing awareness of war, politics, and romance.

Smith, Diane Monroe

Winter 2000

Smith, Diane Monroe Fanny & Joshua: The Enigmatic Lives of Frances Caroline Adams and Joshua Lawrence Chamberlain. Thomas Publications, ISBN 157747046X

Fanny & Joshua explores the personal lives of the Chamberlains. She was musical and literary; he was sardonic and imaginative. Separated periodically due to his work, they often bickered when they were together. Nevertheless, their marriage endured for nearly 50 years.

Hebert, Walter H.

Winter 2000

Hebert, Walter H. Fighting Joe Hooker. Bison Books, ISBN 803273231

A reissue of the only full-length biography of the complex commander of the Army of the Potomac, Fighting Joe Hooker concentrates on the general's defeat at Chancellorsville and his later, much forgotten roles in the War.

Hanna, A.J.

Winter 2000

Hanna, A.J. Flight into Oblivion. Louisiana State University Press, ISBN 807123943

When Lee's line collapsed at Petersburg, a frenzied exodus of Confederate officials from Richmond ensued. Flight into Oblivion spotlights various cabinet members' attempts at escape and also describes Breckinridge's and Benjamin's successful treks to Cuba. This reprint includes an index and William C. Davis's introduction.

Zwemer, John

Winter 2000

Zwemer, John For Home and the Southland: A History of the 48th Georgia Infantry Regiment. Butternut & Blue, ISBN 935523731

Mustered in east central Georgia, the 48th Regiment served in the Army of Northern Virginia from early 1862 through Appomattox Court House. John Zwemer's introductory essay is followed by maps, a unit roster, biographical sketches, and bibliography.

Carter, Robert Goldthwaite

Winter 2000

Carter, Robert Goldthwaite Four Brothers in Blue: A Story of the Great Civil War from Bull Run to Appomattox. University of Oklahoma Press, ISBN 806131853

Bay State Captain Robert Goldthwaite Carter compiled the letters that he and his four brothers exchanged, for a window into common soldiers' concerns and experiences.

Kerr-Ritchie, Jeffrey R.

Winter 2000

Kerr-Ritchie, Jeffrey R. Freedpeople in the Tobacco South Virginia, 1860-1900. University of North Carolina Press, ISBN 807824607

Jeffrey R. Kerr-Ritchie's fascinating account of postbellum life in Virginia's tobacco country depicts the uncertain social status of former slaves, concluding that "freedpeople managed freedom better than their former masters did."

Kerr-Ritchie, Jeffrey R.

Winter 2000

Kerr-Ritchie, Jeffrey R. Freedpeople in the Tobacco South Virginia, 1860-1900. University of North Carolina Press, ISBN 807847631

Jeffrey R. Kerr-Ritchie's fascinating account of postbellum life in Virginia's tobacco country depicts the uncertain social status of former slaves, concluding that "freedpeople managed freedom better than their former masters did."

Carroon, Robert G.
Winter 2000

Carroon, Robert G. From Freeman's Ford to Bentonville: The 61st Ohio Volunteer Infantry. Burd Street Press, ISBN 1572490772

A short introduction by editor Robert G. Carroon precedes several first-person accounts of the 61st Ohio's service in the armies of the Potomac and Cumberland. One selection tells of a rabble-raising corporal imprisoned at Andersonville.

Dunkelman, Mark H.
Winter 2000

Dunkelman, Mark H. Gettysburg's Unknown Soldier: The Life, Death, and Celebrity of Amos Humiston. Greenwood Publishing Group Incorporated, ISBN 275962946

Amos Humiston enjoyed fame in death that he never knew while alive. This biography begins with his youth in western New York and concludes with his anonymous demise at Gettysburg and posthumous rediscovery.

Mullen, Harris
Winter 2000

Mullen, Harris God Bless General Early. High Water Press, ISBN 964662922

Harris Mullen's fictional account of what might have happened at Gettysburg features two crafty young Confederate officers who undertake a mission to rustle up some collateral to use as leverage against the Yankees.

Arnold, James R.

Winter 2000

Arnold, James R. Grant Wins the War: Decision at Vicksburg. John Wiley & Sons, ISBN 047135063X

Meticulously researched and insightful, James R. Arnold's analysis of the Vicksburg campaign concludes with Lincoln's triumphant remark that Grant's victory ensured that "the Father of Waters again goes unvexed to the sea." New in softcover.

Sutherland, Daniel E.

Winter 2000

Sutherland, Daniel E. Guerrillas, Unionists, and Violence on the Confederate Home Front. University of Arkansas Press, ISBN 1557285497

Essays by Daniel E. Sutherland, Lesley J. Gordon, B.F. Cooling, Noel C. Fisher, and others grapple with internal dissent in the Confederacy, guerrilla and bushwhacker activities, and relations between local unionists and secessionists. Michl Fellman, in a concluding essay, writes: "Extreme wartime experience reveals much about personality and cultural values which remain muted during more normal' times."

Roquemore, Joseph

Winter 2000

Roquemore, Joseph History Goes to the Movies A Viewer's Guide to the Best (and Some of the Worst) Historical Films Ever Mad. Main Street Books, ISBN 385496788

History Goes to the Movies includes a sampling of Civil War flicks listed chronologically, including Gettysburg and Glory. The reviews are humorous and fluid, and the historical background is well-researched.

Sperry, A.F.
Urwin, Gregory J.W.
Urwin, Cathy Kunzinger
Winter 2000

Sperry, A.F., Urwin, Gregory J.W., and Urwin, Cathy Kunzinger. History of the 33d Iowa Infantry Volunteer Regiment 1863-6. University of Arkansas Press, ISBN 1557285764

A.F. Sperry's plain-spoken account, first published shortly after the War, draws from his experience as a fifer in this regiment, which saw service throughout the Trans-Mississippi. Footnotes and photos are added to this edition.

Alexander, Adele Logan
Winter 2000

Alexander, Adele Logan Homelands and Waterways: The American Journey of the Bond Family, 1846-1926. Pantheon, ISBN 679442286

Homelands and Waterways recounts the history of the Bonds, whose oldest traceable ancestor was of Irish and black parentage. The work includes a chapter on wartime Norfolk, temporary home to the greatest concentration of ex-slaves in Virginia.

Simpson, Harold B.
Winter 2000

Simpson, Harold B. Hood's Texas Brigade (4 volume set). Landmark Publishing, ISBN 1928582109

Each of the four volumes in this elegant reprint of Harold B. Simpson's masterful study stands alone as a separate work, and together they provide the complete unit history. Hood's Texas Brigade contains Lee's Grenadier Guard (regarded as the standard history of the brigade), In Reunion and Memory, In Poetry and Song, and A Compendium, a useful reference containing the brigade's roster, numerous photographs, and a complete index. Anyone interested in the Army of Northern Virginia, Texas history, or the Civil War in general will appreciate Simpson's stupendous scholarly accomplishment.

McGowen, Stanley S.

Winter 2000

McGowen, Stanley S. Horse Sweat and Powder Smoke: The First Texas Cavalry in the Civil War. Texas A&M; University Press, ISBN 890969035

A history of Texas's first unit to serve in the War, Horse Sweat and Powder Smoke is a tribute to a regiment, its leaders, and its experience in saddle, camp, and battle.

van der Linden, Frank
Winter 2000

van der Linden, Frank Lincoln The Road to War. Fulcrum, ISBN 1555914209

"A needless sacrifice to political stupidity and pride," is Frank van der Linden's characterization of the Civil War. He argues that Lincoln provoked the bombing of Sumter to "create an entirely new nation, with more authority concentrated in the federal government."

Zall, Paul M.
Winter 2000

Zall, Paul M. Lincoln on Lincoln. University Press of Kentucky, ISBN 813121418

An artful biography of Lincoln is spliced together from interview, memoir, and speech excerpts, but always in the slain president's own words -- creating, in effect, Lincoln's own "autobiography." The work chronologically traces Lincoln's life from childhood to his final days in April 1865.

Kiper, Richard L.
Winter 2000

Kiper, Richard L. Major General John Alexander McClernand: Politician in Uniform. Kent State University Press, ISBN 873386361

A leading Democratic congressman from Illinois, McClelland became a brigadier general in the Union Army in 1861 and served controversially until relieved for insubordination. Richard L. Kiper's biography suggests the perils of mixing political rank with the wartime chain of command.

Edmonds, Sarah Emma Leonard, Elizabeth D.
Winter 2000

Edmonds, Sarah Emma and Leonard, Elizabeth D. Memoirs of a Soldier, Nurse, and Spy A Woman's Adventures in the Union Army. Northern Illinois University Press, ISBN 875802591

Elizabeth D. Leonard introduces and annotates this reprint of Sarah Emma Edmond's 1865 classic, if often embellished, Nurse and Spy in the Union Army -- one of only two known memoirs of women who served as soldiers.

Weisenburger, Steven
Winter 2000

Weisenburger, Steven Modern Medea A Family Story of Slavery and Child-Murder from the Old South. Hill and Wang, ISBN 809069539

Toni Morrison's Beloved is based upon this true account of 22-year-old Margaret Garner, whose escape from slavery and 1856 trial for child-murder (she cut her daughter's throat rather than permit her recapture by slave catchers) riveted antebellum society.

Weisenburger, Steven
Winter 2000

Weisenburger, Steven Modern Medea A Family Story of Slavery and Child-Murder from the Old South. Hill and Wang, ISBN 809069547

Toni Morrison's Beloved is based upon this true account of 22-year-old Margaret Garner, whose escape from slavery and 1856 trial for child-murder (she cut her daughter's throat rather than permit her recapture by slave catchers) riveted antebellum society.
